

Student Assistant

To support research and teaching projects

The facts:

- You can start as soon as possible. We appreciate your support right away
- Your weekly working time is 7 hours. You can split the hours very flexibly
- You will support two research assistants: Alexander Schult and Marcus Witter

What we offer:

- Involvement in our research and teaching projects, e.g., conducting literature reviews, performing analyses, supporting experimental sessions, preparing presentations, and writing reports
- Insights in research and being part of work and life at the Chair of Management Accounting
- A professional, collaborative, and feedback-oriented work environment

What you should bring:

- Studies in Business Administration or a related field
- Excellent English and German language skills
- Motivation, drive, and an independent as well as conscientious working style
- Ideally, some basic modelling skills, e.g., in Python, Matlab, R, and experience with literature tools such as Citavi, Endnote or Latex
