Rekrutados

WHO WE ARE

Rekrutados is a pre-seed stage start-up with the purpose to facilitate access to job opportunities and skilled workers worldwide. To achieve this, we are building a platform that offers specialized training, supports the administrative process, and matches workers with employers.

SUGGESTED PROJECT

We're looking for talented students to develop, launch and market a new product in our portfolio. It is a workshop on intercultural training for medical institutions. The workshop shall be designed to give managerial staff better means to integrate employees from abroad. At the same time, these workshops are a low-threshold offer for potential clients to get to know Rekrutados. Your task will be to determine the strategic direction of the course, create the content and market it to clients.

WHAT'S IN FOR YOU

- Work remotely or join us for a co-working session in Barcelona (max. 2 weeks). We will provide free accommodation for you. Wait, really? Yep, you heard right!
- Contribute to closing the skill gap and improving the lives of millions of people.
- Learn to derive a comprehensive strategy, which will shape our company.
- Free participation in our language classes or assignment to a tandem partner.
- Our team has expertise in many areas and access to a large network. We are always there to support you - during your project study and beyond.
